INTRODUCTORY NOTE.

THE following list—in preparing which the method adopted by the late T. W. Field in compiling his valuable "Essay Towards an Indian Bibliography" has been followed—includes all that could be found, after a lengthy and exhaustive search, that deals in any way with the life and adventures of Boone. The numerous school and general histories of our country have not been included, because, with the exception of Bancroft, Winsor and Hildreth, it would avail the student but little to turn to these for information. Bancroft may be considered to have made the only attempt at research above the average. Histories of the State of Kentucky have little value, as a rule, for material contained in them usually is nothing more or less than borrowed statements, and even as such of little worth. The notable exceptions are: Humphrey Marshall's "History of Kentucky," Mann Butler's "History of the Commonwealth of Kentucky," and Lewis Collins's "Historical Sketches of Kentucky." Of the more recent works Shaler's is probably the best. Among the histories of Tennessee and Missouri, John Haywood's two works, "Natural and Aboriginal History of Tennessee" and "Civil and Political History of Tennessee," are probably of the most value, though published as early as 1823. James Phelan's "History of Tennessee" ranks with Shaler's on the adjoining State. Paul Allen's "History of the Expedition under the Command of Captains Lewis and Clark" also contain much information on the subject.

The library of Colonel Reuben T. Durrett at Louisville contains a great deal of valuable material of great interest; his "Life of John Filson," (No. 1, Filson Club Publications,) and his "Centenary of Kentucky," (No. 7, Filson Club Publications,) both refer indirectly to Daniel Boone, as does the paper by Thomas Speed, "The Wilderness Road," being No. 2 of the Filson Club Publications. Col. Durrett's collection of portraits and relics of Boone is probably the most complete in existence. Among the papers of the late Lyman C. Draper of Madison, Wis., is much valuable Boone material, chiefly autographs, letters and documents. These are now in possession of the Wisconsin Historical Society, and were eventually to be published in a volume to be entitled "Border Forays and Adventures." Henry B. Dawson's paper on the siege of Fort Boone, August 8-20, 1778, is excellent, as is also the introduction to William L. Stone's "Life of Brant," which touches on the border wars. Abiel Holmes in his "Annals of America" makes but one reference to Boone. Lord Byron eulogizes the American pioneer in "Don Juan," VIII., 61-65, (1821.) Cooper has used him as a model for the hero of the "Leather Stocking Tales," though under different conditions and circumstances; and others, without change of name, have brought him before the public.

An adequate and trustworthy life of Daniel Boone, however, must yet be written. In spite of the many references to his life in books and periodical literature, and a few so-called biographies, we know but little of him and his real life. Active during that period which, historically, was so vital to the growth and strength of our country (1735-1820,) his existence must always be one of intense contemporary interest both to the historian and the student.

The few so-called biographies of Boone give but little information concerning the real man, and no two seem to agree on any of the vital points in his life. According to the best and most recent authorities Boone was born October 22, 1733, in that portion of Philadelphia County, Pa., that is now known as Berks County. Dr. Peter G. Bertelot had in preparation at the time of his death, in 1865, a work which was to be published under the title of "Oley and Vicinity," the manuscript of which is now in the possession of the Pennsylvania Historical Society. In this Dr. Bertelot asserts that "it is beyond a doubt that he [Boone] was a son of Berks, born in Oley township, and the house in which this occurred is partly standing yet." John F. Watson in a paper read before the Pennsylvania Historical Society, Tuesday, May 17, 1853, made the same statement.

Boone's migrations extended over Pennsylvania to Virginia and West Virginia, in his day one State, thence to North Carolina, Kentucky and Tennessee, Transylvania, or Watauga, as it was then called, Ohio and the Illinois County, and at last to Missouri, where he died at Charette village, September 23, 1820, aged 86 years, 11 months and 4 days. In 1845 his remains, with those of his wife, were removed to Frankfort, Ky., and on that occasion, August 20, the Hon. J. J. Crittenden, delivered a fitting eulogy.

The compiler acknowledges his gratitude to Mr. Hugh A. Morrison, Jr., and to Mr. J. G. Morrison, both of the Congressional Library, for their valuable and courteous assistance; also to Mr. John Skinner, of Albany, N. Y., who has voluntarily furnished aid. To the student of American pioneer history the library of Col. R. T. Durrett, of Louisville, Ky., is invaluable, and to its owner the undersigned wishes to publicly express his thanks for the invitation to avail himself to his heart's content of all its treasures. To Dr. J. P. Hale, of the West Virginia Historical Society, must the compiler also feel himself indebted, as a Boone enthusiast; and lastly, to Mr. Adolph Growoll, of the Publishers' Weekly, who has taken such a kindly interest in the work throughout.

DANIEL BOONE—A BIBLIOGRAPHY

ABBOTT, (John Stevens Cabot.) Daniel Boone, the pioneer of Kentucky. N. Y., Dodd, Mead & Co., 1872. 331 p., 12mo.

Contains nothing original.

ABBOTT, (John Stevens Cabot.) History of the State of Ohio, from the discovery of the great valley to the present time. Detroit, Northwestern Publishing Co., 1875. 8vo.

Devotes nearly seventy-five pages to Daniel Boone and his exploits, which is in reality merely a condensation from his life of Boone, published in 1872.

ALLEN, (Julius Asaph.) The American Bisons, living and extinct, Memoirs of the Museum of Comparative Zoology at Harvard College, Cambridge, Mass. Vol. IV., No. 10. Cambridge, University Press, Welch, Bigelow & Co., 1876. 4to.

Also included in the Kentucky Geological Survey Reports under the direction of Prof. N. S. Shaler. Contains references of historical interest to both Daniel Boone and Nathaniel Boone. An excellent work.

ALLEN, (William.) The American Biographical Dictionary . . . of the most eminent persons deceased in North America.

. . . Boston, John P. Jewett & Co., Cleveland, Henry P. B. Jewett, 1857. 8vo.

Contains the usual amount of biographical material to be expected in such work.

AMERICAN adventure by land and sea. 2 v. N. Y., Harper & Bros., 1842. 18mo.

Volume I. contains a chapter on "The Kentucky adventures of Daniel Boone."

AUDUBON, (Mrs. John James.) The life of John James Audubon, the naturalist, with an introduction by James Grant Wilson. N. Y., G. P. Putnam & Son, 1869. 12mo.

Another and much more sumptuous edition of practically the same work was issued by the Scribners in 1897, (8vo, 2 vols.,) and edited by Dr. Elliot Coues. The works contain two or three anecdotes of Daniel Boone and Audubon often found elsewhere. Audubon's description of the man is interesting, but, we fear, inaccurate.

AUDUBON, (John James.) Ornithological biography, or, an account of the habits of the birds of the United States of America . . . and interspersed with delineations of American scenery and manners. 5 v. Phila., E. L. Cary and A. Hart, 1832. Large 8vo.

Audubon met and conversed with Daniel Boone, and gives us an excellent account of the episode.

BARBER, (John W.) Incidents in American history. Boston, G. F. Cooledge & Bro., 1847. 12mo.

A small portion of the book relates to Boone. Of little value.

BARBER, (John W.) and (Elizabeth G.) Historical, poetical and pictorial American scenes . . . being a selection of interesting incidents in American history. . . . New Haven, published for J. H. Bradley, [1850.] 12mo.

Rather a new edition of the preceding title with some new material. The woodcuts are really interesting. One of these representing "Col. Boon's First View of Kentucky," together with eight stanzas by "E. G. B." commemorative of the event, is the extent of the book's usefulness in this particular line.

BASS, (Florence.) Stories of pioneer life for young readers. Boston, D. C. Heath & Co., 1900. 12mo.

The whole of chapter V. is given to Daniel Boone. Intended for the youngest readers.

BATEMAN, (Horatio.) Biographies of two hundred and fifty distinguished national men. 2 v. N. Y., John T. Giles & Co., 1871. 12mo.

Biography No. 95 of one page is given to Daniel Boone. Valueless.

BIOGRAPHICAL ENCYCLOPEDIA OF KENTUCKY, (The) of the dead and living men of the nineteenth century. Cincinnati, J. M. Armstrong & Co., 1878. 4to.

Contains a three-column article on Daniel Boone and a steel portrait from Harding's painting.

BOGART, (William Henry.) Daniel Boone and the hunters of Kentucky. Auburn and Buffalo, Miller, Orton & Mulligan, 1854. 390 p., 12mo.

Also to be found with the imprint, N. Y. and Auburn, 1856, 464 p., Boston, 1859, 464 p., and N. Y., 1864. Now published by Lee & Shepard and entitled "The Border Boy."

[BOOKSTAVER, (James N.)] Indian massacres and tales of the Redskins: an authentic history of the American Indian from 1492 to the present time. N. Y., A. D. Porter, 1895. 12mo.

Chapter VIII. "Reminiscences of Daniel Boone, his hairbreadth escapes" is of little value.

BOON[E], (Daniel.) Life and adventures, written by himself. Brooklyn, N. Y., (for C. Wilder,) 1823. 36 p., 12mo.

The first edition of this pamphlet of which Field's "Indian bibliography" notes the second. (Brooklyn, 1824) and Sabin describes a third, (Providence, R. I., H. Trumbull, 1824.) The C. I. Bushnel sale at Bangs', in 1883, catalogues one with the date 1828, but this no doubt was erroneous. The first edition has been seen with Lord Byron's eulogy on Boone and also his "Choice of Life" appended. It sold at the Brinley sale for $55.00. Copies of the Providence edition, which is the same as is contained in Imlay's "Description," q. v., have sold for five and seven dollars under the hammer.

BOONE, (Daniel.) Life and times of, including an account of the early settlement of Kentucky. Phil., G. G. Evans, [n. d.] 12mo.

According to Sabin (6374,) this is a reproduction of some anonymous book, with a new title-page. As Evans was the publisher of Hartley's "Life" (1859,) and his title in many ways resembles this, it is probably the same book.

BOONE, (Daniel.) Life of Daniel Boone, the pioneer of Kentucky. Boston, E. O. Libby & Co., 1858. 12mo.

Sabin, 6373.

Recommends allowance for services in the army. Bill reported.

BRIGHT, (John M.) Donelson and the pioneers of Middle Tennessee. Washington, Globe Printing and Publishing House, 1880. 8vo.

Excellent, though brief. References to Daniel Boone and Kentucky.

BRYAN, (Daniel.) The mountain muse: comprising the adventures of Daniel Boone. Harrisonburg, (Va.) (the author,) 1813. 252 p., 12mo.

A lengthy exposition in verse, of the daring deeds of this valiant hero.

BUTTERFIELD, (Consul Willshire.) History of the Girtys, a concise account of them and their part taken during the war of the revolution. Cincinnati, Robert Clarke & Co., 1890. 8vo.

Contains occasional references to Daniel Boone.

CATTERMOLE, (E. G.) Famous frontiersmen, pioneers and scouts: the vanguards of American colonization . . . lives and marvellous exploits of the most renowned heroes, trappers and explorers . . . including Boone . . . Brady, Crockett. . . . Chicago, Coburn & Neuman Pub. Co., 1883. 8vo.

Five chapters of unusual interest including the first sixty-five pages of the work. Written with an attempt at authority, and worthy of perusal.

CLARK, (George Rogers.) Sketch of his campaign in the Illinois in 1778-9, with an introduction by Hon. Henry Pirtle of Louisville and an appendix containing the Public and Private Instructions to Col. Clark and Major Bowman's Journal of the taking of Post St. Vincents. Cincinnati, Robert Clarke & Co., 1869. 8vo.

Contains a selection from Daniel Boone's autobiography or narrative as contained in Imlay.

CODY, (William F.,) ("Buffalo Bill," pseud.) Story of the Wild West and camp fire chats . . . a full and complete history of the renouned pioneer quartette Boone, Crockett, Carson, and Buffalo Bill. Chicago, R. S. Peale & Co., [1888.] 8vo.

The first quarter of the work, which is devoted to Boone, is extremely interesting and readable, and contains all the essential facts, though without new ones, and shows but little original research.

COLLINS, (Lewis.) Historical sketches of Kentucky . . . with anecdotes of pioneers and more than one hundred biographical sketches . . . Maysville, (Ky.,) and Cincinnati, J. A. & U. P. James, 1847. 8vo.

Contains considerable material relative to Boone and the Boone family. Other editions in 1848 and 1850. Copies with the imprint of Phila., 1847, are occasionally seen.

DAWSON, (Henry B.) Battles of the United States by sea and land. 2 vols. N. Y., Johnson, Fry & Co., 1858. 4to.

Volume I. contains six pages relating to the siege of Fort Boone, Aug. 8-20, 1778, and a brief sketch of the individual. Another edition of the same work with title changed to "Battles of the war of the Revolution" was published at Morrisiana, N. Y., in 1867.

DAY, (Sherman.) Historical collections of the State of Pennsylvania. Phila., George W. Gorton, [1843.] 8vo.

Contains notices of Daniel Boone and his followers.

DE BOWS, (James Dunworthy Brownson.) The industrial resources, etc., of the southern and western states. 3 v. New Orleans, (the author,) 1852-53. 8vo.

Volumes I. and II. contain references to Boone. A third edition of the work was published in New York in one volume, 8vo, 1854.

DODGE, (J. R.) Red men of the Ohio Valley; an aboriginal history. Springfield, (O.,) Ruralist Publishing Co., 1860. 12mo.

About a quarter of the material in the volume is devoted to Boone and worthy of perusal.

DONALDSON, (Thomas.) The George Catlin Indian Gallery in the U. S. National Museum, with memoir and statistics. Washington, Government Printing Office, 1885. 8vo.

Contains a sketch of a visit to Boone in 1806 by Babasheela, an Englishman. Three pages of great contemporary interest.

DRAKE, (Daniel.) Life of Daniel Boone. [Cincinnati, 1825.] 230 p., 12mo.

The above, with the exception of the place and date, is from Sabin, No. 20820. The only other reference which I have found is in Thomson's "Bibliography of Ohio," which is a mere mention. None of the six sketches of Dr. Drake give the slightest clew, and my information as to the date and place comes from a friend in Cincinnati. The publisher I have not discovered, if, indeed, the book ever existed.

DRAKE, (Francis S.) Indian history for young folks. N. Y., Harper & Bros., 1885. 8vo.

Chapter XIV., of twenty-two pages, is entitled "The Backwoodsmen of Kentucky" and gives some very readable and interesting facts concerning Daniel Boone.

DRAKE, (Samuel Adams.) The making of the Ohio Valley States, 1660-1837. N. Y., Charles Scribner's Sons, 1894. 12°.

Might readily be termed a history of the early northwest. Valuable, though elementary.

DRAKE, (Samuel G.) Biography and history of the Indians of North America, from its first discovery. Boston, B. B. Mussey & Co., 1851. 8vo.

An excellent work with several lengthy references to Daniel Boone, though the work claims to give but little attention to others aside from the Indians. Drake devoted his life to the project. First edition published in Boston in 1832 by Josiah Drake and entitled "Indian Biography."

DUYCKINCK, (Evert Augustus.) National portrait gallery of eminent Americans, from paintings by Alonzo Chappel. New edition. 2 v. Johnson, Fry & Co., 1864-67. 4to.

Volume I. contains a biographical sketch of Boone, by Duyckinck.

EGGLESTON, (Edward.) Stories of great Americans for little Americans. N. Y., American Book Co., 1895. 12mo.

Seven pages of elementary material concerning Daniel Boone.

Ethnology, 19 Annual Report of. The Myths of the Cherokee.

ELLET, (Mrs. Elizabeth Fries Lummis.) Pioneer women of the west. N. Y., C. Scribner, 1852. 12mo.

Contains a chapter on Rebecca Boone, wife of Daniel Boone, and many references to him in domestic life. Now published by George W. Jacobs & Co., Phila.

ELLIS, (Edward S.) In the days of the pioneers. Phil., Henry T. Coates & Co., 1897. 12mo.

Volume II. of the Boone and Kenton series. (Juvenile.) Introduces Boone as one of the characters.

ELLIS, (Edward S.) Life and times of Colonel Daniel Boone, the hunter of Kentucky. N. Y., Beadle's Dime Biographies, No. 2, 1860. 96 p., 16mo.

Also two editions of 269 pages each at Phila., 1864, and one of 267 pages at Cincinnati. Now published by H. T. Coates & Co., Philadelphia.

ELSON, (Henry William.) The story of a wonderful hunter; Daniel Boone. Phila., J. M. Stradling & Co., 1899. 72 p., 12mo.

Another contribution to the now numerous and equally valueless juveniles.

ENGLISH, (William Hayden.) Conquest of the country northwest of the River Ohio, 1778-1783, and life of Gen. George Rogers Clark. 2 vols. Indianapolis and Kansas City, The Bowen-Merrill Co., 1896. 8vo.

A lengthy and valuable work, giving much of contemporary interest concerning Daniel Boone and the Boone family.

EVERETT, (Edward.) The Mount Vernon papers. N. Y., D. Appleton & Co., 1869. 8vo.

Paper No. LII. of nine pages devoted to the life of Daniel Boone.

FERNOW, (Berthold.) The Ohio Valley in colonial days. Albany, Joel Munsell's Sons, 1890. (Munsell's Historical Series, No. 17.) 8vo.

Contains much valuable material concerning Daniel Boone.

FILSON, (John.) The discovery, settlement, and present state of Kentucke . . . to which is added an appendix containing the adventures of Colonel Daniel Boone, one of the first settlers. Wilmington, (Del.,) printed by James Adams, 1784. 118 p., 8vo.

French translation by Parraud, Paris, 1785, 232 pages, 8vo, also an English edition, London, 1793. This is Boone's own account as dictated to Filson. The Wilmington edition has sold for $120.00. See also Imlay.

FIRST CENTURY OF THE REPUBLIC, (The,) a review of American progress, compiled by Theodore D. Woolsey, David A. Wells, Francis A. Walker and others. N. Y., Harper & Bros., 1876. 8vo.

Contains two references to Daniel Boone.

FLINT, (Timothy.) Biographical memoir of Daniel Boone, the first settler of Kentucky. Cincinnati, George Conclin, 1833. 267 p., 12mo.

The above was reprinted in 1834, 1840 and 1841. In 1842, 1846, 1849, 1850 and 1851 it was again reprinted by the same firm in editions of 252 pages. Applegate & Co., of Cincinnati, also issued an edition with the same number of pages in 1855. The work later reproduced by this firm as "The First White Man of the West; or, the Life and Exploits of Colonel Daniel Boone, the First Settler of Kentucky," 1856 and 1858, 252 pages. In 1868 U. P. James issued an edition to which was added "An Account of Capt. Estill's Defeat," map and three plates, 256 pages, 16°. This is now to be had of Hurst & Co., N. Y., in 12°. The 1841 Conclin edition sold at the Brinley sale for $2.25.

Flint, Timothy. Ten Years Recollections of the Miss. Valley.

FLINT, (Timothy.) Indian wars of the west . . . biographical sketches of those pioneers who headed the western settlers in repelling the attacks of the savages. Cincinnati, E. H. Fleet, 1833. 12mo.

Contains a somewhat lengthy but extremely inaccurate account of Boone and his followers. The "Bibliotheca Historica" of Stevens quotes an edition, Cincinnat, 1830.

FLINT, (Timothy,) ed. The Western Monthly Review. 3 v. Cincinnati, E. H. Flint, 1828-30. 8vo.

Complete in the three volumes. Volume I. contains Boon(e)'s "Remembrances of Arriving in Kentucky," an effusion of thirty-three lines which is anonymous, presumably written by the editor. Interesting but valueless.

[FRENCH, (Benjamin Franklin.)] Biographia Americana; or, a historical and critical account of the lives, actions, and writings of the most distinguished persons in North America, by A Gentleman of Philadelphia. N. Y., D. Mallory, 1825. 8vo.

Three pages are given to Mr. Boone, as he is termed.

FROST, (John.) Border wars of the west, comprising the frontier wars of Pennsylvania, Virginia, Kentucky . . . and embracing individual adventures among the Indians, and exploits of Boone, Kenton, Brady. . . . Auburn, (N. Y.,) Derby & Miller, 1853. 8vo.

"The plates are colored with an outrage of taste aboriginally characteristic."—Field. Also an edition at New York, 1859.

FROST, (John.) Heroic women of the west. Phil., A. Hart, 1854. 12mo.

Contains an article, The wife and daughter of Daniel Boone, which is of little value and of no consequence to the historian. Indeed little of the material by this writer is of any moment.

FROST, (John.) The panorama of nations . . . as illustrated in narratives of peril and adventure. Auburn, Alden, Beardsley & Co., Rochester, Wanzer, Beardsley & Co., 1853. 12mo.

The fourth chapter traces the adventures and doings of Daniel Boone. Remarkable only on account of ever having been published. We might note that the real name of this writer is William V. Moore though he would not be generally recognized except under his pseudonym.

GALLAGHER, (William D.), and CURRY, (Otway,) eds. The Hesperian; or, Western Monthly Magazine. V. I.-II. Columbus, (O.,) published by John D. Nichols, 1838. V. III. Cincinnati, published by John D. Nichols, 1839. 3 v. 8vo.

Volume III. containing six monthly parts, June-Dec., 1839, is quite scarce in a complete state. No number for May, 1839, was issued on account of the removal of the work from Columbus to Cincinnati. Volume II., number 2, contains an article by W. D. Gallagher, "An Historical Sketch of the Early Settlements and Early Jordyne, Lawr. Article on Borne in Missouri, Modern Culture Magazine May, 1901 (vol. 13, No. 3, pp. 259...).

Contains important illustrations, including a cement in an original state. Cleveland, Ohio.

Men of Kentucky," of twenty-four columns, and is a valuable contribution to the knowledge of Daniel Boone and his surroundings. Hartley's "Life of Daniel Boone" was taken almost entirely from this source.

GILMORE, (James R.,) (Edmund Kirke, pseud.) The advance guard of western civilization. N. Y., D. Appleton & Co., 1888. 12mo.

Contains one reference to Daniel Boone.

GOODRICH, (Samuel Griswold,) (Peter Parley, pseud.) Curiosities of human nature. Boston, Bradbury, Soden & Co., 1844. 16mo.

Contains a sketch of nine pages on "Daniel Boone, pioneer and early settler of Kentucky," designed for young readers.

GRIFFIS, (William Elliot.) Sir William Johnson and the Six Nations. (Makers of America Series.) N. Y., Dodd, Mead & Co., [1891.] 12mo.

Contains one extremely valuable reference to Daniel Boone.

HALE, (John P.) Facts and incidents not heretofore published about Daniel Boone. Charleston, (W. Va.,) (the author,) 1883. 18 p., 12mo.

As interesting as it is accurate and reliable.

HALE, (John P.) Trans-Allegheny pioneers; historical sketches of 1748 and after. Cincinnati, S. C. Cox & Co., 1886. 12mo.

Contains a sketch of, and many references to Daniel Boone.

HALL, (James.) Sketches of history, life and manners in the West. . . . Cincinnati, Hubbard & Edmonds, 1834. 12mo.

Of the above edition only volume I. was published. A second edition was printed in Philadelphia and issued by Harrison & Hall, 1835, in two volumes. The work is authentic and well written, mostly from personal observation. Volume I. contains an account of Daniel Boone.

HALL, (James,) ed. The Western Magazine, a continuation of the Illinois Monthly Magazine. 5 v. Cincinnati, v. I.-II., published by Cory & Fairbanks. V. III.-IV., published by Taylor & Tracy. V. V., edited by James R. Fry, published by Flash, Ryder & Co., 1833-36. 8vo.

Volume I. contains an excellent full-page portrait of Daniel Boone from a painting by Y. W. Berry for Judge James Hall. There is also a single page sketch signed "X" which concerns Boone, but is extremely inaccurate.

HAMILTON, (William T.) Report on petition to Daniel Boone, Aug. 1, 1850. House report No. 472, 31st Congress, 1st session, V. III. Washington, Government Printing Office. 1 p., 8vo.

Adverse to petition, no evidence, committee asked to be discharged.

HARDING, (Chester.) My Egotistigraphy, prepared for his family and friends by one of his children. Cambridge, John Wilson & Son, 1866. 12mo.

Harding painted the first and last portrait of Daniel Boone that we have, and gives an excellent description of the man and his surroundings. The original picture is now in the possession of W. H. King of Chicago, Ill.

HARRISON, (Frederick G.) Biographical sketches of preëminent Americans. 20 parts. Boston, E. W. Walker Co., 1892. 4to.

This work contains a copper plate reproduction of the portrait of Daniel Boone by Thomas Sully (1783-1872) now owned by Mr. F. M. Etting of Philadelphia, and a sketch of five pages of great interest.

Hay, John, & Nicolay. Lincoln, the pioneer. Century Magazine, November, 1886. (Contains Broom letter, etc., etc.)

HART, (Albert Bushnell,) ed. American history told by contemporaries. 4 v. N. Y., The Macmillan Co., 1898-1901. 8vo.

An excellent series of great value. Vol. II., "The Building of the Republic, 1689-1783," contains a reprint of Filson's "Adventures of Col. Daniel Boon(e)."

HARTLEY, (Cecil B.) Life and times of Colonel Daniel Boone, comprising the history of the early settlement of Kentucky. Phil., G. G. Evans, 1859. 351 p., 12mo.

Reprinted in 1860 and 1865. Now published by A. L. Burt & Co., New York. Contains also Boone's autobiography as dictated to Filson.

STRICKLAND, (W. P.) The pioneers of the west; or, life in the woods. N. Y., Carlton & Phillips, 1856. 12mo.

A chapter of forty-three pages, entitled "The Hunters of the West," gives in remarkably clear form a complete outline of the life, adventures and death of Daniel Boone. During the whole recital his name is mentioned but once. The work is now published by the Methodist Book Concern.

TARBELL, (Ida M.,) and Davis, (J. McCan.) The early life of Abraham Lincoln. . . . N. Y., S. S. McClure, Ltd., 1896. 8vo.

The early Lincolns were contemporary with Daniel Boone in Kentucky and this volume gives much of interest concerning the last-named, including a portrait and an illustration of Boone relics.

THATCHER, (Benjamin Burney.) Tales of the Indians, being prominent passages of the history of the North American natives. . . . Boston, Waitt & Dow, 1831. 16mo.

Chapter X., "The settlement of Kentucky" is given in part to Daniel Boone.

THOMSON, (John Lewis.) History of the Indian Wars and the War of the Revolution in the United States. 2 vols. Phila., J. B. Lippincott & Co., 1873. 8vo.

The chapter devoted to the "Indian Wars of the West" refers to Daniel Boone. Not valuable.

TRIPLETT, (Frank.) Conquering the wilderness. Akron, (O.,) The Werner Co., 1898. 12mo.

Contains a short and not very elaborate account of Daniel Boone.
